SUIT COMES AS RESULT OF FIGHT

Charles Lightner of Arlington is Ejected From I. & C. Car And Asks $2000 Damages.

IS SAID HE WAS INTOXICATED

Plaintiff in Suit Had Conductor Down
When Motorman Interfered
And Put Him Off.

As the result of a fight between Charles Lightner of Arlington and an Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company crew one week ago today, Lightner has filed suit in the Rush circuit court against the I. & C. demanding $2000 damages because he was ejected from the car. The suit was filed at four o'clock yesterday afternoon by the plaintiff's defendants, Stevens & Carson.

The encounter on which the suit is based happened shortly after the 6:09 west bound I. & C. car pulled into the station last Thursday evening. Several hundred people were jamming around on the platform and in the station, and many more than could be loaded on the car were attempting to board it. The large crowd was due to the fair which had been spoiled that afternoon for a heavy rain.

I. & C. officials do not know how the fight started but they do know that Lightner was put off the car in very short order. They heard from witnesses to the encounter that Lightner was intoxicated and it is supposed that his presence was offensive which caused him to be thrown off.

Witnesses to the scene on the platform saw that part of the rumpus which took place on the platform of the car at the entrance. Several people say that Lightner had the conductor, Roy DeArmon, down on the flat of his back and was pounding him up considerably when Sam Warfel, the motorman on the car, came to his mate's rescue. Warfel, according to witnesses, grabbed Lightner by the feet and dragged him from the car and he was not allowed to board it again.

It is said that Lightner was peeled over the eye which blacked it up considerably and suffered a few other slight bruises. DeArmon is a small man and it is said that he did not escape without a few bruises.

Traction officials say that Lightner was so incensed that he tore a paling off the fence and hung around the traction station for some time, waiting for the car which carried the train crew that had ejected him. It is said that he expressed himself that he was not particular whether or not it was the crew which threw him off, just so he got one of them.

Lightner alleges in the complaint that he was unlawfully ejected from the car and was attached and beaten up by the conductor. He sets forth in the complaint that his injuries amount to a badly bruised eye, a sore head and an injured back which he received when he was thrown to the pavement. Lightner's wife, the complaint says, boarded the car and that he and she intended to go to their home in Arlington.

DON'T GET TRAIN.

J. P. Stech, clerk of the Modern Woodmen, received word this morning from the State Log Rolling Association of Anderson, that the Big Four September 4, 1911, from North Vernon, had been annulled by the railway company on account of a shortage in passenger cars. This is disappointing news to the hosts of Woodmen from here who had made arrangements to attend.

Men Especially Sunday Morning.

The Rev. J. W. Turner, pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church will deliver a special Labor Day sermon at the regular Sunday morning service. The Rev. Turner invites especially the laboring men of the city as he will preach a sermon which will appeal to them. This is in accordance with the policy of the Rev. Mr. Turner in past years as he has been pastor in a large city much of the time where Labor Day is much more closely observed than it is here.

TIGERS FLOURISH IN KNIGHTSTOWN

Temperance People of Town Are Aroused and Resolve to Rid Place of Characters.

DEMAND SOMETHING BE DONE

The temperance people of Knightstown, according to a dispatch from that town, are convinced that blind tigers are flourishing there. It is believed that liquor is being sold unlawfully either by foreigners or others in the town. An effort will be made to bring the law violators to justice.

For some time it has been noted that there was considerable drunkenness for a town that has no saloons, and voted not to have them for two years. Men are seen sober, and in a few hours appear on the streets in an intoxicated condition, and the short time in which they get in this condition is evidence that they do not go out of town to get the liquor, even to Greenfield, which is only a short distance away.

Prosecutor Evans of Henry county will be asked to take a hand in the matter and put a stop to the law violators. It is understood here that he is out of the county at the present time, but as soon as he returns home the matter will be taken up with him. Arrangements are being made to send a delegation of local people to the county seat to call on the prosecutor and insist that he, with the officers, take hold of the matter and stop this unlawful selling of liquor.

IS THROWN FROM HORSE

Emory Clifford Suffers Wound Requiring Twelve Stitches.

Emory Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Clifford, was badly injured when he was thrown off a horse while riding on the S. E. Houehins farm southwest of the city. After the horse had thrown him, it stepped on one of his arms and so badly bruised and lacerated it that it was necessary for the physician to take twelve stitches in the wound. Eyewitnesses to the accident expected to see the horse step on the boy's head and fatally injuring him. The horse's foot did not fall far short of striking his head.

INCREASE SCHOOL YEAR.

The Knightstown school board has decided upon making the school year nine months instead of eight and one-half months as heretofore, consequently school will begin a week earlier than usual, the fall term opening September 11. The trustees have selected the list of teachers and every thing is in readiness for the opening of school on that date.

WILL OVER LOOK LAW VIOLATORS

State Game Commissioner Says People Who Kill Blackbirds Not Likely to be Prosecuted.

ARE CONSIDERED GREAT PEST

Many Requests for Permission to Shoot Birds But this Can Not be Granted.

It will be agreeable information for those Rushville persons who kill blackbirds because they are infesting their trees on their annual migratory trip south that, although the slaughter of these pests will be a violation of the State game laws, it is not likely they will be prosecuted for it.

This statement is in accord with an announcement made at the office of the State fish and game commissioner, where scores of requests had been made for permission to kill the birds. No such permission was given, as the commissioners hold he has no authority to grant any such privilege.

Blackbirds do not come in the list of birds which the state game law exempt from protection, and are protected as fully as the robin or the red bird. The former state administration permitted the birds to be killed in villages or in suburbs where they became a nuisance, and did not attempt to enter prosecutions.

Jacob Sottong, chief deputy commissioner for the south half of the state, said it would be useless to bring proceedings to prosecute persons killing blackbirds where they made themselves a pest, as he did not believe, he said, any court would fine a man for killing the birds when they became a nuisance. It is only in the late summer and early fall, when the birds are going south, that they become pests.

The blackbirds which have had roosts in trees in North Main, North Morgan and Perkins streets for years are more numerous this year than ever and have extended their roosting quarters to the trees in adjoining street. The birds literally number tens of thousands. Their chatter frequently disturbs the whole neighborhood and some of the lawns under the trees have already been considerably despoiled.

Efforts for many years have been made to break up the roosts. Roman candles and shotguns have been used, but with little noticeable effect. Some of the citizens say that they do not object to a few thousands of the birds, but the numbers have become so great that the birds are regarded as a pest.

The state game warden has advised the use of elastic alarm bells in trees. The citizens say that this means only that the birds will be driven into the next neighbor's yard.

BREACH OF WARRANTY SUIT

Charles Meyers Asks $128 Damages
From Elmer Alexander.

Charles Meyer, has filed a breach of warranty suit against Elmer E. Alexander and demands $128 damages. In the complaint Meyers alleges that he purchased a horse from Alexander for $115 and that the animal was warranted to be sound and healthy. He states that the horse was blind in one eye and the other was so diseased that the sight was destroyed in about four weeks after the purchase. Meyers says he sold the horse and was forced to take it back because of its condition.

MAY LAUNCH A WATSON BOOM

Henry Co. Politicians Believe That Former Congressman is Man to Redeem the District.

SAY THAT HE CAN "COME BACK"

Watson States Repeatedly He Is Not Candidate for Anything—His Name Mentioned.

Although James E. Watson of this city, former Sixth district congressman and candidate for governor at the last election, has repeatedly asserted that he will not be a candidate for congress from this district, or for governor, New Castle Republicans have declared in favor of Mr. Watson and have practically launched a theory that he can "come back" and redeem the district for the party.

The New Castle Courier says of the meeting there.

A group of Henry county politicians in the lobby of the Bundy hotel Tuesday night discussed political conditions in Indiana and from the gist of the conversation it could be ascertained that a move is about to be launched to secure the Republican nomination for congress in the Sixth district for the Hon. James E. Watson of Rushville. The meeting in the lobby was an accidental affair, not prearranged or previously planned, but as each man talked and added his mite to the discussion, it could be readily seen that a Watson boom was in the air and that each individual had heard that Watson was the most logical and the most promising candidate to redeem the Sixth district for the G. O. P.

"Watson can 'come back,'" said one of the participants in the conference. "He has always carried the district and there is no reason why he should not do it next year. Other than him, I know of no candidate that would appear so favorable before the people."

The discussion then assumed earnest proportions and before it had ended there was a general feeling that Watson would not only roll up an old-time Republican majority in Henry county, but would also cement the party within the confines of the district into a splendid organization.

"When Watson was in congress he put the Sixth district on the map," asserted a strong admirer of the Rushville politician. "If elected next year he would assume his old leadership in congress and without a doubt would be elected speaker of the house. What a big thing that would be for the district."

The talk here is but a small section of the bee-like Watson buzz that has been heard for several weeks past throughout the district and which is gradually assuming definite form and which seems bound to develop into a full-fledged candidacy. It is a well-known fact that Watson has a greater influence on the floor of the present house than almost any member or ex-member. He is in constant touch with President Taft and has done much to carry out the plans of the executive.

After all the discussion in regard to "Our Jim" from Rush county, the matter resolved itself to the question as to whether the object of the confab was really an aspirant for the place. None could say that he was, and none had a personal knowledge of his future political plans. However, it seemed that all were of the opinion that the district from a Republican standpoint might be redeemed by the ex-member from Rush county.

Included in the discussion was the

Many Rush county farmers and Rushville people went to Connersville in automobiles this morning. WILL ERECT TWO STORY BUILDING

Owen L. Carr and B. F. Miller Let Contract For Modern Structure
In Second Street.

WORK TO BE STARTED MONDAY

Building Will be Occupied by Rushville Vulcanizing Company, A Local Concern.

A modern and up-to-date two-story building, which will excel, according to the men who will build it, anything in the street at present, will the Daily Republican building and the Green office building. Work will be started on the new structure at once.

The building will be erected by B. F. Miller and Owen L. Carr and it will be occupied by the Rushville Vulcanizing Company, a purely local organization. The company was organized some time ago by a number of local capitalists and has been doing business in the Poundstone building. Lon Ginn is manager of the new concern. The company has leased the building for five years and both floors will be utilized by it.

The contract has been awarded to Pink Derringer and work will be started on it Monday morning. The building will be brick and will be modern in every respect. The owners say that it will be more pretentious than any other building in the street. Although the kind of a front which will be used has not been decided on, the two capitalists declare that it will be a front which will be far more artistic than that on any other building in Rushville. The building will be full sixty feet in length and will extend to the end of the lot.

The building will fill a much-felt want in business part of Second street. The vacant lot between the Daily Republican building and the Green building is the only vacant place in the block and the erection of a new building there will be gladly received by the owners of buildings in that vicinity.

BAND WILL PLAY TONIGHT

Meeting Will Follow When Greensburg Trip Will be Planned.

The Rushville band will play on the street tonight before special meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants Association meeting is held to make arrangements to go to Greensburg two weeks from tonight. It is practically assured that enough people can be obtained to get a special train over the Big Four to make the trip. Opportunity will be had to advertise the fall horse show as well as advertising the city of Rushville.

PLAN AUTO LINE.

James Lacy, a wealthy farmer of Johnson county, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo C. Cottle, at Harts-ville, has aroused a high pitch of enthusiasm in that neighborhood over a proposition to establish an auto-traction line between Columbus and Clarksburg, Decatur county. Information at Hartsville is to the effect that the movement has already assumed form and those backing it are certain that something definite will be done.

SULFOSOL is just soluble sulphur—made possible through the recent discovery of a secret of Nature by a great chemist.

SULFOSOL (soluble sulphur) is Nature's gift to that large portion of humanity afflicted with Pimples, Eczema, and all forms of blood taints and skin diseases. MAMMOTH SUNFLOWER.

Forty-two inches Across, With Fringe of Twelve Inch Petals.

A woman living near Asotin, Wash., has grown a sunflower the center of which measures forty-two inches across, with twelve inch petals, making the total diameter of the sunflower bloom sixty-six inches, or five and a half feet. This giant flower is supported by a stalk that has expanded and grown under the weight of the bloom until it is five inches in diameter at the base and about four inches thick at the height of five feet. It was grown at the top of a filled up well.

Recently a mushroom appeared from this well and reached the abnormal size of nearly three feet. It cracked under the pressure of rapid growth and rotted before it could be preserved.

TAFT WILL INVADE INSURGENT TERRITORY.

President's Forty Day Trip Will Take Him to the Pacific Coast.

Plans for President Taft's coming trip through the west and to the Pacific coast have been completed. The journey will be almost as extensive as that taken by the president on his famous "swing around the circle" in 1909, when he traveled more than 13,000 miles and visited thirty-three states. He will break ground for the Panama Canal exposition at San Francisco and attempt to scale the 14,000 feet of Mount Rainier's precipitous slope.

The president will be gone six weeks. In that time it is expected that he will make close to 200 speeches from platforms and from the rear end of his private car. Republican leaders look upon the trip as the most important, politically, that the president has mapped out since he entered the White House. He will go through all the states in the west dominated by the progressive Republicans, who are counted on to oppose his renomination next year.

Until the question of the adjournment of congress was out of the way the president was undecided whether he should be gone three weeks or six.

The president will leave Beverly Sept. 17, returning east about Nov. 1. He will go through Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Nevada to the coast. Most of the big cities in that section, including Des Moines, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City, will be visited, but the plans for the trip contemplate stops at scores of smaller places as well. From California the president will go north to Portland and Seattle. Three days are to be spent in Washington state, and the route eastward will allow him to stop in Idaho, Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

While no spellbinders are to be taken along, it is probable that members of the cabinet or congressmen will become traveling companions of the president at various points.

CHRIST TO COME IN 1912.

Dowie Disciples File a Declaration With Chicago Recorder.

The second advent of Christ upon earth and the reuniting of the lost tribes of Israel will occur some time in November, 1912, according to a declaration filed in the office of the Chicago county recorder.

This remarkable document, which fixes the month of the second coming of the Saviour, was drawn up and filed by Harry L. Burnett and John Taylor, disciples of the late John Alexander Dowie, and asks that all the followers of Zion rally to the support of the King when he shall come.

"Before the year 1912 shall close Jesus, the Christ and the Son of God, will come forth from the eternal throne once again to teach and preach the gospel of salvation and to heal the sick," reads the document.

"The Christ will be revealed in Zion city, built by God's Elijah as a preparation of the way, unto all who await his coming."

According to Burnett, who is the author of the prophecy, the Christ will remain on earth 434 years. This time will be consumed in reuniting the tribes of Israel and in building cities throughout the earth after the model of Dowie's Zion city. The rebuilding of Jerusalem will be the last work of the Christ upon earth.

LIGHTNING CALCULATOR DEAD.

Hutchings, Who Helped Make Barnum Famous, Passed Out at Eighty.

Professor William Street Hutchings, for more than fifty years a famous figure in the American show world, is dead at the age of eighty. Most of his fame came to him while with P. T. Barnum, where he was known as the lightning calculator.

He was born in New York Jan. 7, 1832, the son of a grocer. At twelve years he was graduated from Hubbs & Clark's academy, in West Washington street, and for a few years thereafter studied law. That not satisfying him, he went into a Massachusetts town and played a part in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Barnstorming wasn't overprofitable, and he migrated west, working on a farm. In 1860 he appeared at Barnum's museum, exhibited his ability as a calculator and was engaged. He remained with Barnum till the museum was burned the second time and then went on the road. In 1872 he was with Forepaugh's circus in Washington and gave a private entertainment to President Grant at the White House.

KEPT VOW SIXTY YEARS.

Pendleton Shaved After Saybrook Bridge Was Completed.

Keeping a vow registered sixty years ago, Jonas Pendleton of Saybrook, Conn., lost his patriarchal beard. When he was twenty-one years old he swore never to shave again till the Connecticut river was spanned by a bridge that linked Saybrook with Lyme. Six decades have flown by, and Pendleton has reached the age of eighty-one.

A year ago the bridge was begun, and recently it was finished, and Pendleton sought a barber shop to keep his vow. The entire village was on hand to witness the removal of Pendleton's beard. Few of the villagers had ever looked on his face. The barber declined to accept compensation.

Pendleton declared after the operation that he felt twenty years younger.

WRIGHTS MAY CONTROL AIR.

Their Suits Hit Nearly Every Aeroplane Maker.

NEW INJUNCTIONS SOUGHT.

Latest Legal Step Also Includes Majority of Aviators—Protecting Various Patents—Situation Complicated From a Legal Point of View.

Flying machine suits are again coming to the fore. The Wright brothers have begun a wholesale injunction campaign that, besides the original parties to the Wright suits, now includes the Moisant aviators, Rene Simon, Rene Barrier and Audemars, Tom Sopwith, the Englishman, who is now flying a Farman in this country; Joe Frisbie, two of the Moisant managers and some aviators in Detroit.

Those who are interested in the flying machine litigation will remember that suits have been brought by the Wright brothers against Glenn Curtiss, Claude Grahame-White, Louis Paulhan and others. These suits are set for trial in New York state and city at the October term of the courts.

The legal aspect of the flying machine situation seems to have been lost sight of by the general public because so many people were flying apparently without let or hindrance from the Wrights. But the wide extension of the Wright suits will again call attention to the fact that the basic claims of the Wrights have never been adjudicated. If they are settled in favor of the Wrights it will mean practically the whole flying business of the world is in the hands of the Wright company unless somebody appears with a type of flying machine about which nothing is even suspected now.

French Makers Sued.

Wilbur Wright has been abroad all summer giving testimony for the prosecution in France. The suits in that country are not precisely Wright suits. The patents of the Wright brothers were sold to a syndicate in France, and in defense of their claims to the control of the air this syndicate has sued all the French aeroplane makers except the Voisins. The foreign machines such as the Bleriot and the Antoinette boldly use the warping wings identical with those developed by the Wright brothers. There are a score of other French manufacturers who use ailerons for lateral balancing or some other substitute for actual warping. The Voisins have never used either contrivance, balancing their machines by the rear rudder, so they are out of the field of fire.

The French court after hearing Wilbur Wright held that the Wright device was patentable, but appointed a commission and gave it a year in which to find any prior patents on wing warping. Such patents exist, but the Wright brothers were first in the field with a motor driven machine, and whether the old patents will be regarded as inoperative by the French court is not known.

The German courts, on the other hand, have already established a precedent by deciding the first suit in favor of the syndicate that bought the German patents from the Wrights.

In this country the matter has been very open. Curtiss, Grahame-White and Paulhan had been sued, and there was a general disposition to await the result of these trials as blazing the way for action in the other cases the Wrights might start were they successful. In the meantime, however, the Wrights had got one other manufacturing company in this country to accept a license from them, and they have stated that the new suits are being brought to give their licensee the worth of his money.

Another Patent Involved.

But the situation in this country is further complicated than by the adverse claims of "aileron" and "wing warping." In the background there is another patent that may any time play an important part in the litigation. It was issued in 1903 to Professor J. J. Montgomery of California. Montgomery is a man well known in the aeronautical world. His patent was for flexing machine when the wings were curved. The patents granted to the Wrights were for flexing the wings of a flying machine when the wings were flat.

Now, a flying machine with flat wings will not fly without the application of much more power than is available even with a gasoline engine. The Wrights have never attempted to build a flat winged machine, but have always built under the Montgomery patent. The Wrights have never sued Montgomery, and he has never sued them, though it is stated that he has sent them letters of warning by way of keeping his legal rights alive.

The Montgomery machine was described as far back as 1893, when the aeronautical congress was held in Chicago, and there were public exhibitions of the machine used as a glider in California in 1905. What will happen if this fresh complication is injected into the flying machine legal controversy it is hard to say.

Even if an adjudication of the patent controlling the dominion of the air is made this winter the suits probably will be kept alive by legal motions two years longer.

As there are only seven state elections this fall, it looks like a long cold winter for the politicians.

The weather bureau is to stop recording earthquakes. This will be a relief to the sensitive feelings of our friends out at Frisco.

Considering all the farmers have been spending at the agricultural institutes, it was no wonder that the crops would not grow this year.

Premier Laurier says he will retire from public life if defeated, but if he will move over the line we'll give him a job investigating something in a like predicament.

While the rains will help the corn crop to mature, they will be a terrible blow to agriculture if they interrupt the horse races at cattle show.

The government has ordered 180 whitehead torpedoes, which will perhaps be all that President Taft needs to discharge on his front walk Fourth of July morning.

It would save time and bother if Democratic politicians would read over their speeches to Billy Bryan in advance, as they have to take them all back if they don't.

There is a big stir in Jersey because Gov. Wilson was called an "ingrate and a liar," but comparatively speaking these are merely terms of endearment among politicians.

Had Mona Lisa foreseen all this reaction when her picture was being taken, she'd never have responded so amiably to the direction to "look a little more pleasant, please."

The Moroccan war will disappear as soon as it has fulfilled its mission, which was to persuade the stock market lambs to put their pelts on the Monday morning bargain counter.

The secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade says Providence never intended human beings to live in flats. It is also probable that Providence never intended human beings to live in Chicago.

ings to live in Chicago.

Dispatches tell us that Pasadena, Cal., said to be the home of more wealth people than any city of its size in the world, is facing a baby famine. Statistics for July show that forty-eight babies were born during the month, while health authorities say that 200 babies a month would be a minimum normal estimate for a city which has a population of 40,000.

One cider maker of Rush county says the county apple crop is the largest in fifteen years. A Kokomo dispatch reports an unprecedented sale of cider presses this season. And now comes a tale from Peoria, Ill., heretofore known almost exclusively for her whiskey products, that apple growers near that place have so much cider this year they are filling their cisterns with it, as good places in which to hold it for market. Some months ago "sweet cider" was a much advertised and highly prized dring in Huntington, but times have changed temporarily at least and Huntington county cider will go mostly into the apple butter jar and the vinegar keg.

Woman's emancipation is going on apace. Not only is she becoming a suffragette, a mayor, a state legislator, and an aviator, but she is beating man at tennis and swimming. She has loosened the corset of her grandmother and her waist line is now where it belongs and of ample circumference.

And another revolution has been brought about. It has been officially proclaimed by the mighty synod of Boston shoe manufacturers. The women's No. 2 shoe has been relegated to the limbo where dwell the bustle and the princess train. Woman no longer grins her teeth and cheers on the panting salesman while he tries to force her feet into small shoes several sizes too small for them. She boldly and unblushingly demands a No. 5, with heavy soles. And she flaunts such footgear defiantly in the face of the world. Her skirts are cut short so that all who will may see how she is shod, and she goes her way with the stride of a grenadier and a clomping on the pavement that makes the ordinary man duck in the belief that Jack Johnson or Hackersmidt is bearing down on him.

There was a time when the chief diet of the real womanly woman seemed to be marshmallows and pickles and her principal exercise fainting. Now she orders a square meal of beef and potatoes and eats it with a relish and without shame and then she goes off on a five-mile walk. She is taller than the woman of the old days, broader across the shoulders, deeper of chest and bigger of muscle. All this needs something substantial to stand upon.

So good-bye to the No. 2 shoe. No flowers, no tears, no crepe.

"It begins to look different out in the country. The grass is turning tawny, the catalpa leaves are falling, and there is more purple in the distance than there was a few days ago. The goldenrod is waving its splendid pennants and the wild aster makes the roadway royal. The odors that come up from the earth are changing. There is something less succulent about them, something more spicy. Sometimes it seems as if incense were burning and now and then there is a hint of wood smoke, as if distant forests were aflame. In the morning the bath had a bite to it, and at night one becomes conscious of his hearth. For months he has forgotten it and has remembered only his hammock or his easy chair. He has spent his evenings star watching and has been aware of the waxing and waning of moons. Now, imperceptibly, he is turning from the empyrean to the ceiling.

It comes over him afresh that he is a fireside creature, that he loves a roof, needs shelter, and is most himself when he has home for his background. To be the child of Nature is sweet, but somewhat too impersonal. With the passing of summer he feels the consciousness of his own mastery of conditions. He is the head of his home, and his home is a little kingdom—a personal and proud achievement. Here he has gathered his conveniences; here are his books; here is the table at which he sits with his family and his friends. Here is home!

So, if you brought cones from the woodland, bring them now and put them in the fireplace, for the evenings have a touch of chill, and it's time to close the door and draw up chairs to the hearth. The outside world was fair, but no fairer than one's own fireplace; the voices of the summer night were sweet, but not so dear, after all, as those which custom has made familiar here in the house.

EDITORIALETTES.

Weather remarks, we are told, are entirely out of date. Well, it's kibosh for the weather man henceforth for, far be it from us to ever do anything that would not be strictly conventional.

For instance, saying anything unworthy of our enemies.

This fellow must o' been a first uncle of the man here last week who chewed up all his rubber glove and then stretched out of town. He wandered around, finally meandering up to a railroad station and inquired the way to Greensburg. He was shrunken and deformed but he seemed equal to the occasion of walking to the "lone tree" town. He started out down the track with a wheelbarrow glide, when something suddenly dawned on his mind and he stopped suddenly. He turned, his eyes were blood-shot and his face was distorted. He shouted shrilly: "If the moving picture shows are empty, how do you film?"

A Tipton business house is advertising "a girl to paste labels on."

There, there little one, don't be so peeved. No one thought of attempting to outrage your reputation for truth and veracity. We accept it as the truth when you print it, and there is no occasion for another column to try to prove it was true. As we catch the grift just now, the only contention was that the pickpockets did not work here, and we guess that is still the case. But, if you think you can prove it to our satisfaction, go right ahead and print another column tomorrow. You have our permission. The only objection, as we see it, is that it's a terrible waste of ink as well as asking much of your subscriber to read the same story a third time.

We are led to believe that those two Rushville women, whose identities have not been made public though the columns of newspaper as yet, left their cards in the wrong pew. It's a stinkin' shame that their names should be drawn into this controversy, distasteful as it is.

We have engaged a noted dramatists to write a thrilling melodrama on the pathetic, and withal that, humorous topic, "Pickpockets Did Work Here."

It's a very unusual thing for them to do for they don't generally work for a living.

We have it now. They must o' been working on the streets.

After consulting Webster's International, we have found that chimerical means fanciful and a dozen other things. That is some word.

Make it plainer next time, ole top, so it will not take so much time to get you.

True, there may be a few advantages to publishing a morning paper.

AUTO TURNS OVER ON HILL

Judge Ed Jackson of New Castle, Well Known Here, Hurt.

While touring Brown county yesterday the five-passenger touring car, owned and driven by Judge Ed Jackson of New Castle who is very well known here, turned turtle on a big hill on the outskirts of Nashville, the county seat of Brown county. Judge and Mrs. Jackson and a couple of friends were in the car when it turned over three times, rolled down the embankment and landed reverse side up against some shrubbery at the base of the hill. Mrs. Jackson was pinioned beneath in the machine, but was fortunate in falling into a slight ravine, which prevented the car from crushing her. The other passengers jumped at the second turn of the auto and escaped with only slight bruises.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will have the usual change of program tonight. "The Trapper's Daughter" is a Vitagraph drama and is said to be a thrilling picture. "The Cook" is a Lubin comedy and tells a very funny story. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Portola will show a Biograph and Vitagraph film tonight. The Biograph "Her Sacrifice" is a touching drama and has many pathetic incidents "Proving His Love." The Vitagraph film is a drama above the ordinary and is said to be a fine picture.

The Vaudet's special attraction the musical Bradbury family will give its first program at that theater this evening. The members of the Bradbury family give a wide and varied musical program on many different instruments. They are said to be highly accomplished artists and a strictly high-class program is guaranteed by the management. The company comes here from a long run at Coney Island. They will be here the remainder of the week and will give a matinee Saturday afternoon. Aside from that the regular program of pictures will be given this evening. "From Wallace to Grant" is a champion civil war drama that is very realistic. It deals with actual life on the battle field "Sixtus The Fifth," an Ambrosia drama, is the title of the other film. Leon Maxey will sing "I'm Going Home."

One of the many features attractions with the John R. Smith Shows which will exhibit in Rushville all next week is the original "Old Plantation" under the management of Dave Noxon, who is known as the pioneer promoter of colored minstrels in this country. Noxon was the first man to offer colored talent under canvas which occurred in the year of 1889 and he has never deviated from this style of entertainment since that time. During the past 15 years he has seen many imitators come and go but not so with Noxon. He is in "The Old Plantation" business to stay and when one takes a peep into his magnificent canvas theatre which excels many so called opera houses and witnesses the genuine old southern Plantation frolic presented by 22 real southern negroes including their own unimpaired band and orchestra no one ever attempts to question why Dave Noxon has stuck to the "Old Plantation" Show for the past 22 years.

A PROCLAMATION.

State of Indiana, Executive Department.

By many men it has been taken to say: "This is mine." To most men comes the call: "I must." But it is the elect only who say, "I can." Happy they, who, whole of body and mind, face the future undismayed by wrong and ignorance and oppression, with the calm hope to build without a builder, and when they dream that beauty my limbed by the ashes of discontent. Wise is that people whose master builders recognize worth and deal justly with their entered apprentices. Justice is never too perfect. An expression of our desire for it is always fitting. Words do not help much—but they hearten for the moment.

May Monday, Sept. 4, 1911, which is by law Labor Day in Indiana, be given over to inspiring words in the cause of justice, and the untangling of the threads of passion, prejudice and enmity, that out of them brotherhood may weave for us garments of peace and righteousness.

In Testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and cause to be affixed the great seal of the state of Indiana.

Done at the Capitol in the city of Indianapolis, this seventeenth day of August, A. D. 1911.

THOS. R. MARSHALL, Governor.
By the Governor,
L. G. ELLINGHAM, Secretary of State.

ENORMOUS SAVING

Railroads Have Dropped 80,000 Employes Within Year.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—A report just out gives the number of employees dropped on 60 per cent of the railway mileage
of the country in the last year as $1-$70, a saving of $94,000,000 in wages.

As bearing on the present wage dispute between railway shop men and the roads the figures given above are considered by Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of the Harriman

significance.

JEALOUSY AND ENVY PROMPT INSANE ACT

Young Girl Held for Writing Scurrilous Letters.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 31.—Miss Harriett Dewitt, a pretty young woman,
one of the daughters of a leading family of this city, disappointed in love and envious of the handsome and at the time single Rev. E. E. Snyder of the Lutheran church, is under arrest for sending anonymous letters to the pastor and a large number of the members of the congregation and also other people.

The letters were of a most envious, scurrilous and damaging character and were of such a nature that the postal inspectors refuse to allow them to be seen.

The young woman's parents are heartbroken over the arrest of their daughter and claim they never knew that the girl was writing to any person. Miss Dewitt will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner Turner.

Sheriff Picked Up Reward.

fugitive, but finally decided to risk a telegram of inquiry, and then found he was in $25 as a reward, Tudor having violated parole in leaving Ohio.

Former Policeman Slain.

Charleston, Ill., Aug. 31.—Arnold

surrendered and were placed in jail.
A charge of murder in the first degree
was placed against them. Springer,

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel For Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelly feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness
of the feet, and is the only remedy that does.
TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet
—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face
in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box
of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from

MADE GOOD ON HIS FIRST TRIP TO SEA

Fine Work of Plucky Young Wireless Operator.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 31.—With little chance of being saved, the Philadelphia-bound steamer Lexington of the Merchants and Miners Transportation company is aground off Hunting Island. The Lexington's passengers were landed at Charleston by the United States revenue cutter Yamacraw. From 11 o'clock Sunday until 5
Monday afternoon the hurricane raged.
The Lexington was buffeted like a naphtha launch by the gale over 100 miles. The vessel rolled and pitched, so that the passengers were thrown about like so many marbles.

According to the passengers but for the heroism of Wireless Operator Scheetz there would have been no chance of rescue. After the storm had wrecked the wireless station Scheetz climbed into the rigging and adjusted his instruments, flashing the calls for immediate assistance. The signals were caught by the Yamacraw, which hastened to Hunting Island. Scheetz, a sixteen-year-old boy, was in peril of his life while operating the wireless, the wind almost tearing him from his insecure position. The boy was on his first trip as a wireless operator. When urged by the officers of the Yamacraw
that he abandon his boat, Captain Connally declared he would remain with her until only a mast was left to hang to.

LEAK REVEALED IN STATE BOARD

Chief Accountant Wants to Locate Responsibility.

A MINE INSPECTION SCANDAL

The Premature Publication of Alleged Criminal Irregularities on Part of a Former Deputy in the Office of the State Mine Inspector Has Led to a Rigid Inquiry in Accountant's Office
as to Source of Leak.

Indianapolis, Aug. 31.—The state authorities are searching for Miss Myrtle Densford, until recently a deputy in the office of the state mine inspector. It is charged that there are many irregularities in her accounts,
and that there are evidences of raised vouchers and forgery of seals of no-taries public, for which she only can account.

In the meantime she appears to have fallen completely out of sight.
It is said discrepancies have been found in vouchers which were tampered with before they reached the auditor of state for payment. An instance is cited of a livery bill for $2 which was raised on the voucher to $12. Another bill for 50 cents was raised in a voucher to $20.50. These are said to be examples of the alleged manipulation of the records. The money on the vouchers was paid to Miss Densford and transmitted by her to the various deputies.

In handling the affairs of the office,
which were left almost entirely to Miss Densford, the receipts from the field men were sent in at regular intervals, together with vouchers for the entire amount of the expenses for the period.

Miss Densford would present the vouchers at the office of the auditor, have a warrant for the total in her name, draw the money from the state treasury and deposit in a local bank.
She would then obtain drafts for the amounts due the several field men and send out these drafts in the place of the state warrants. The proceeding is said not to be an unusual one in handling a state department's finances.
The examiners have examined former Inspector Epperson and his various former deputies and found that they reputed a number of the vouchers on file in the auditor's office. They explained the vouchers were for greater amounts than the expense items sent in and that in some instances they were forgeries. It is also charged that a number of notaries public whose seals were attached to the vouchers have said the vouchers were tampered with after the seals were affixed, and at the instance of one notary in Brazil
the entire voucher was changed and a notary's seal unlike that of the Brazil
official affixed after the Brazil notary's name had been signed to the voucher.

Publication of a premature report of the examination has caused Chief De-hority of the state board of accounts to begin an investigation for the purpose of learning who gave out the information. The accounting law prohibits any person connected with the accounting board from giving out any information in connection with an examination. This is the first leak since the law was amended last winter so as to require secrecy. Dismissal from the service is the penalty for violation.

CONDITIONAL WARRANTS

Death May Defeat Intended Murder
Charge at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Aug. 31.—While John J. Giesen, who shot Jennie Barlow, formerly Mrs. Jennie Grady, and then turned the weapon on himself, is hovering between life and death at the city hospital, a warrant, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill
is held by an officer assigned to watch sick prisoners. If Giesen recovers he will be arraigned on the charge. A warrant has also been made against the woman, charging her with assault and battery on Giesen. The woman's condition has improved and it is thought she will recover.

Couldn't Identify Prisoners.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 31.—Special Officer Walter O. Hosler of the Grand Trunk railroad, lost his case against two alleged coal thieves in court here, for an unusual reason. Attorneys for the defendants, Mrs. Rosa Hollis and Mrs. Michael Forey, arranged to have fifty foreign women attend the trial,
and in the crowd the railroad sleuth
was unable to identify the prisoners.

Youthful Woodchopper Killed.

Winchester, Ind., Aug. 31.—Ralph Wilmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W.
Wilmore, living south of this city, was found dead in the woods. He had gone for a load of split wood, and it is thought that while loading wood into the wagon the horses started, crushing his head between the wagon bed
and a tree.

Held on Horse Stealing Charge.

Lebanon, Ind., Aug. 31.—William
Best and Fred Meyers are in jail here, charged with horse stealing. It is charged they stole a horse and buggy
from the hitchrack at Pence, sixteen miles northwest of Williamsport, last Friday night. Each prisoner said his home was in Indianapolis.

Defense Brings In Mysterious Man With Gun.

THIS IS THE LINE OF DEFENSE

No Attempt Will Be Made to Inject Insanity Plea Into the Defense, the Prisoner's Lawyers Deciding to Stand or Fall by the Young Man's Story of His Wife Being Slain by a Stranger Along the Highway.

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Aug.
31.—After the commonwealth's lawyers had rested their case, the grave business of Henry C. Beattie's defense against the charge of wife murder commenced.

Before his lawyer, Harry Smith, Jr., had been an hour at work on the building of combative evidence against the serious case made out against the young man by the prosecution, he had introduced a witness who swore that on the evening of the day when Mrs.
Beattie was murdered on Midlothian turnpike, he had seen a rough-looking man answering in a vague way the description of Mrs. Beattie's assailant, as the prisoner himself has given it,
who was walking along the tracks of the Southern railway, three miles away from the scene of the homicide, with a single-barreled shotgun over his shoulder.

Further testimony tending to trace
the movements of this armed man from 5:30, the hour when the first witness saw him, up to near 11 o'clock, when Mrs. Beattie was fired upon,
was entered. Another witness testified to having seen an unusual looking man on the Midlothian turnpike on three separate occasions before July 18, the day of the murder.

As far as Beattie's defense has revealed itself, it has been shown that no attempt will be made to dodge the story which the prisoner has told of his wife having been slain by the charge of a single-barreled shotgun, fired at a range of about six feet by a man unknown to Beattie. There was no hint given of a possible defense of insanity, which had been rumored during the early days of the case; no attempt to establish the ground for a verdict of involuntary manslaughter, through the mishandling of the gun in Beattie's own hands.

The young man's lawyers have evidently decided to stand or fall by the highly unusual story that their client has interposed in the face of the strong circumstantial evidence against him; this means that unless they can confound the evidence of Paul Beattie,
the testimony of that witness, setting forth how Henry made a confession of guilt to him and linking Henry directly with the possession of the shotgun,
admitted to be the weapon of assault,
will go before the jury as vital proof of the young man's guilt.

The final effort of the prosecution
before closing its case was to break down the unexpected testimony of offered on Tuesday by a sixteen-year-old boy about there having been a second stain of blood on Midlothian turnpike.
Attorney Wendenburg satisfied himself with putting on eight witnesses,
most of them police officers and detectives, to say that they had heard the rumor of the second blood spot,
had gone to the place in the road
where the stain was supposed to be,
and had not seen a trace of blood there.

BIGGEST IN COUNTRY

Indianapolis Recruiting Station Will Have Force of Forty-Five.

Indianapolis, Aug. 31.—According to information received by Lieutenant Charles Bullock, in charge of the local recruiting station, a force of fourteen men, who will be transferred to Indianapolis from the station at Cedar Rapids, Ia., will be here early next week. This will make the force at the Indianapolis station total forty-five, the largest force at a recruiting station in the country. This is because Indianapolis is to be publicity headquarters for the entire country, except those states east of Pennsylvania and north of Virginia.

the agricultural department to regulate the manufacture of the beverage.

GRAY HAIR WILL MAKE YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will effect the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out and makes it beautiful.

PURELY A LOCAL SERVICE

The Postmaster General Announces a Plan For Introduction of Parcels Post Service Which He Believes to Be Reasonable and Satisfactory, the Plan to Be Given Initial Operation
on the Rural Routes.

Washington, Aug. 31.—When it became known that the federal government is to go into the express business in opposition to the existing companies, something of a sensation was created here. Postmaster General Hitchcock has announced that he is in favor of a parcels post and will discuss the subject at length in his next annual report.

But the postmaster general is not going to advocate the widespread taking over into the postal service of the express business of the country. He does not propose by a single provision of law to take into the mails all the parcels up to a given weight, which the public might be inclined to send through the mails, near or far.

His plan contemplates the gradual introduction of the parcels post system, the slow but sure preparation of the postal service and its employees to handle the business within circum-scribed limits, and then its gradual extension, until the whole country is covered and it will be as easy to send a parcel by mail to California for delivery as to send it to a local merchant or from one resident on a rural delivery route to another along the line.

The postmaster general says he has given careful attention to the whole subject. He has finally evolved a plan for the postal service of this country which he believes to be reasonable and satisfactory. This plan contemplates a trial of the parcels post system, first on rural delivery routes. The matter to be handled must originate on the route and be addressed for delivery to a person living along the line of that route.

It will not permit parcels to be mailed in far-off cities and places for delivery on that route, nor the mailing of parcels on the route for delivery in such places. The system will first be tried upon one or more routes and then extended to others, but will always, for the time being at least,
comprehend purely a local service.

A RICH FIND

Archaeologists Discover Writings in the Hands of Ahab and Elisha.

London, Aug. 31.—F. F. Ogilvie, who was a co-worker with Prof. George A. Reisner, head of the Harvard university expedition to Samaria, says
the recent so-called discoveries in King Ahab's palace of pottery and tablets, inscribed with the correspondence of Ahab, Jezebel and Elisha, probably refer to finds by the American scholars. Prof. Reisner's expedition found on the site of Samaria the remains of Roman, Herodian and more ancient towns. These were discovered at successive depths where the tax receipts and other writing in fragments of pottery were found. If, however, the report was true that correspondence had been found, it would be practically the first discovery of important political writing in the earliest form in which it could be recognized, Hebrew script.

The Worshipers Fled.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 31.—While the congregation of the Belgium chapel,
near this city, was at worship, an unknown person fired three loads of bullet into the building from ambush. The worshipers fled. The police and bloodhounds were unable to find a clue.

Too Many Blackbirds.

Hoyleton, Ill., Aug. 31.—More than 1,000,000 blackbirds roost nightly in the city park and disturb the slumbers of the citizens. It is proposed to exterminate them.

Ran In Front of Car.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 31.—Ralph Edwards, a five-year-old boy, ran in front of an interurban car. He was knocked down and was killed by the fender striking him in the neck.

SOCIETY NEWS

Miss Marguerite Wolcott, entertained a number of her girl friends at her home in North Perkins street last night with an old-fashioned taffy pulling.

* * *

Probably the premier social event of the week was the wedding of Miss Myrtle Purdy and Lawrence B. Smelser, which took place Tuesday evening at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harry Hodgkin. The chief adornments of the home were golden glow and ferns, although smilax was prettily used on the arches and chandeliers. The ceremony was performed promptly at half past seven, Miss Alice Newman playing the Mendelssohn wedding march. The bridegroom was attended by Birney Spradling of Rushville. They were followed by the ring bearer, Miss Julia Briggs Spillers, the bride's niece, and lastly came the matron of honor, Mrs. A. R. Spillers, of New Orleans, and the bride. The Rev. Arthur Cates, of the Grace M. E. church officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Purdy appeared in a wedding gown of white satin, with beads in elaborate designs on it. Her bouquet consisted of white roses, bound with a ribbon of white tulle. The bride also wore a veil. The matron of honor was dressed in a handsome gray silk gown, to which she added a bouquet of white asters.

After the wedding a dainty buffet luncheon was served. Miss Taylor, Miss Alice Newman, Miss Edna Hoover, and Miss Maria Francisco received the guests and assisted at the luncheon. Shortly afterward the couple left for Indianapolis, from which place they will go to Winona. Then they will go at once to Rushville, where they will settle permanently. Both bride and bridegroom are well known in this city, and their friends are unanimous in wishing them good fortune in their new home.

Miss Lola B. Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. C. Wagner, and Martin C. Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens, both of Glenwood, were married by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson at the United Presbyterian church parsonage yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. They will reside in Glenwood.

IS ACTIVE AT 92 YEARS

Elias Phelps of Henry, Rush's Brother-in-Law, Celebrates.

Elias Phelps of Harrison township, Henry county, who was married to Miss Anna Hill of this county back in December, 1847, passed his ninety-second milestone yesterday. He is perhaps the oldest man in the adjoining county and is still as agile and active as he was in his youth. Mr. Phelps went to Henry county from Greensboro, N. C., in 1829, when it was a wilderness and has worked so diligently that he has been able to accumulate 243 acres of good Henry county land. In 1847 he made an invasion into this county and took a wife back home with him. Five children were born to them. The celebration of his birthday anniversary yesterday was a complete surprise to him.

HIS TOE IS AMPUTATED

J. Favor Suffers Injury When Car Passes Over His Foot.

J. Favor was seriously injured in a peculiar way in St. Paul yesterday at the Greely stone crusher. A car which had been sent up the incline started back and Favor attempted to throw on the brakes. In doing so he put his foot on the rail and the car ran over it, crushing it frightfully and severing the great toe. A physician amputated the toe at the first joint and dressed the wounds. A peculiar feature of the accident was that Favor's shoe was not cut through. The leather apparently mashed into the flesh.

LARGEST SINGLE SALE, $20,000

Greater Activity Shown in Real Estate Circles Than Has Been For Months.

There has been more activity in realty circles in the last week than has been shown by the real estate transfers at the county recorder's office for months. That amount does not include the money paid for property which was sold and the price not stated in real estate transfers.

The largest amount of money which changed hands in any one deal was that paid by Fred A. Capp and his son Frank M. Capp by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Frazee for 145.75 acres of land in this township. The sum was $20,269.68. The next largest was the disposal of 124.26 acres in Noble township to Jesse Winkler by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Winship for $12,426. record of Congressman Finly Gray of Connersville. It was generally conceded that Gray is not performing to his own good and that he is making a play for support from the independent element in the Republican party by his various interviews, in which he has repudiated in a way the Democratic organization, but which repudiation was not carried out by the record of his votes in congress. A general synopsis of the career of Representative Gray seemed to indicate that he has lost in strength within the ranks of his own party and has gained but few friends and supporters among the rank and file of Republicans.

However, the discussion seemed to indicate that Mr. Gray would be re-nominated and that he would be the man that Watson or any other Republican nominee would have to beat. He has yet so strong a hold on the Democratic organization within the district as to warrant his renomination.
